Today, we live in the modern world, the age of the Internet. These updates and conveniences are good, but we should not forget the proverb "Everything is good - don't believe that it is good, it will give you away". From this quote, it can be understood that the internet and convenience are good, but along with it, internet trends and various non-cultural ideas are also entering.

First, let's briefly cover the concepts of culture and spirituality. When it comes to culture, we can understand that many scholars have expressed different opinions about culture and given different definitions to it. Based on these definitions, if we approach culture as follows, if we accept that culture is a general integrated system, it theoretically expresses the general aspects of any phenomena, including spiritual phenomena, and the practical aspects of the manifestation of spiritual phenomena in society. also learns [1].

Considering that culture is used synonymously with the concept of "decency" in other respects, culture is widely used worldwide from a Western point of view. Etiquette is used in place of the concept of culture in the Muslim world[2].

The concept of culture comes from the word "madaba" and is close to the concept of a spiritual party[3]. It would not be an exaggeration to say that at the spiritual feast, intellectuals gather together and exchange ideas about the works they have read, the news they heard from merchants, and if they are writing a new work.

Above we mentioned the concept of spirituality many times. Keeling would now be interested in partially explaining the concept of spirituality.

The concept of spirituality is one of the most widely used concepts. Scientists, intellectuals, and thinkers of Eastern and Western countries have given many definitions to this concept and expressed their opinions.

His Holiness Nizamuddin Mir Alisher, the sultan of speech, in his work "Hamsa", which consists of five epics written in Turkish, described human spirituality and the perfect personality to such an extent that anyone who read this work does not remain without spiritual strength. This work is a great spiritual wealth with unique ideas about what true love is like, what true friendship is like, what spiritual perfection of a leader looks like, and what to pay attention to. I will not be mistaken.

Alisher Navoi in his work "Hayrat ul-Abror" expresses the following opinion about manners and ethics: "A clown eats exactly two slaps for one dirham to make him laugh". The rich son is also attacked because he looks like a clown. All these pranks will be immediately repelled if modesty and decency come. "Every intelligent person speaks his words with intelligence"[4]. From this it can be seen that a person should be beautiful with his manners, a person should be polite, he should respect his elders, and he should treat the younger ones with respect. Today's young people should learn a lot from it [5]. The reason is that Alisher Navoi's characteristics, such as the fact that people don't speak the right words like clowns and owls, pay attention to whether the interlocutor is big or small, are suitable moral views for today serves. Today, we are preparing our children for society as owls or clowns, and in some sense, we are making serious mistakes in educating today's young generation. In Ibn Sino's words, "we allow laziness in raising a child while still in the womb". We allow young people to download materials that promote various perversions and encourage crime. If we take the time from the time of the first independence to 2014, and if we compare the opportunities of today's young people of Uzbekistan, there are many opportunities in our country, but in the previous period, when the quality and growth decreased, the opportunities were not at this level, but relatively the quality is high. In raising our children, it is becoming an urgent issue that we pay more attention to religious sciences than to worldliness.

We believe that all persons involved in raising our children to be moral, spiritual and cultured should come together and hold the reins more tightly and not give this rein to the spider that promotes immorality, immorality and criminality. . Imam al-Bukhari, one of the medieval thinkers regarding morality and education, in his work "Al-adab al-Mufrat" quotes the following hadith - "Abu Dardo (may Allah be pleased with him) narrates: "The Messenger of God (may Allah honor him and grant him peace) said: "Whoever is blessed with gentleness" if there is, he will be blessed with good fortune, and whoever is deprived of it, will also be deprived of good. Good morals are what will weigh the scales of a believing servant on the Day of Judgment . "Allah the Most High will certainly be angry with a person who says bad words and does bad deeds," they said [6]. If we analyze the hadith mentioned above, if he is well-mannered and well-behaved, he will certainly receive the blessings of the Most High. On the other hand, those who are bad-tempered will face the wrath of the Creator. If such a bad person can realize his mistakes, stop what he is doing, fix his will on this, nourish his spirituality, and purify his whole soul through the spirituality he has nourished, it is certainly true that the Most Merciful will forgive his sins after seeing the actions of his servant[7]. When the Day of Judgment comes, first of all, the child's relatives will suffer because of the bad upbringing, and secondly, the teacher who neglected it and did not return his student to the right path in time or did not try to return it will suffer, and then It is possible to explain that zi may suffer because of knowingly entering a bad path.

Republic of Uzbekistan Islam Karimov, the first President of the Republic of Uzbekistan, puts forward his opinion on spirituality - "Spirituality is an incomparable force that calls a person to spiritual purification, spiritual growth, strengthens the inner world of a person, strengthens his will, completes his faith and belief, and awakens his conscience. is the criterion of all his views"[8]. Therefore, it can be understood that the greatest force that invites a person to spiritual purification and spiritual awakening is his spirituality. And culture is the ability to bring this power to the surface. When it comes to cooperation, it is correct to emphasize this. teaches him to show it in society.

Uzbekistan Shavkat Mirziyoyev called 2024 the year of supporting youth and business. We can say that this means that the doors of more opportunities will be opened for young people in the future, that they will be given the opportunity to study in one field and not for a diploma, and it will become a foundation for becoming mature, honest and mature personnel of their profession.

Child upbringing, which has become an urgent issue of our topic, and the factors that affect it and protection from them, if we look at the age of 7 to 70 years in today's globalization period, we can see modern mobile communication devices in the hands of everyone. we can reach One of the major factors that seriously affect the upbringing of children is the tool that has become a part of our lives. In the family circle, around the table, when talking to each other, our handful is not our child, but this phone in our hand. When our child comes to us asking for love, our thoughts are not about giving him love - our imagination is about the reality of what is happening on the social network and when we are pushing the child away from him and destroying his language. Not being interested in our child knowing that he spends 4 hours of his day at school and not asking him about the knowledge he has learned at school is one of our serious mistakes. If our child hears a little talk from the teacher, taking the child's money and disrespecting the teacher in front of him is a serious reason for the negative change in the child's attitude towards the teacher and science. We can afford to buy the most expensive phone for our child, but we leave the reins free when it comes to his control, we teach the child how to access the Internet, but we leave the Internet etiquette untaught, which is the reason why we are multiplying the uncivilized person by one. is our action.

If we make the above mistakes, if we understand our shortcomings in a meaningful way, if we prepare the child with understanding of phone etiquette and internet etiquette before giving the phone to our child, if we pay serious attention to the purpose of using the phone that we bring, give our child both sense and culture in cooperation with his teachers If we support him both physically and mentally, we will definitely raise a perfect person in the society in the future, and we will definitely hear sweet words and thanks from him, not only slander and slander. We believe that in order to do all this in a consistent way, we must first re-educate the parents.
